GatePro is the brain child of Suresh VSR, is an eminent teacher in the field of GATE Coaching. A teacher of par excellence who rose to fame for Electro-Magnetics and Antennas during his long stint with MadeEasy Delhi from 2010 to 2020. His videos in Unacademy Flux Youtube Channel during the Covid-19 pandemic period were a blessing for many students preparing for GATE 2021 and GATE 2022. He was one of the key factors behind the growth of successful GATE coaching centers in Delhi and Hyderabad. In his illustrious career of 23 years, he has guided 2 Lakh students who went to grab the top ranks in all prestigious national level exams in Engineering branches of EC and EE. A man of values and virtues, his videos in Youtube are considered as reference and benchmarks for teaching Electromagnetics and many subjects in Electronics or Electrical Engineering.

Report
A guest lecture is arranged by Career Counselling Cell on 10-02-2023 (Friday) from 11:30AM to 3:30PM at Visvesvaraya Bhavan Seminar Hall. Mr. Suresh interacted with students about job opportunities in IT sector. Slowly He has started to motivated the students towards the GATE exam and its importance in Higher Education and Employment. He was explained GATE serves as a gateway for admission into postgraduate programs, including M.Tech, M.E., and Ph.D. in prestigious institutions across India. A commendable GATE score is often a prerequisite for securing admission in top-tier technical universities and research institutes. Successful candidates gain access to specialized courses, cutting-edge research opportunities, and exposure to advanced technologies, thereby enhancing their academic and professional competencies. Beyond academia, GATE scores are widely recognized by public and private sector organizations as a benchmark for technical proficiency. Many government agencies, PSUs (Public Sector Undertakings), and leading corporations utilize GATE scores as a screening criterion for recruitment. The examination's emphasis on fundamental engineering principles and problem-solving skills makes GATE qualifiers highly sought after in industries ranging from information technology to core engineering sectors. At end of the session few students are interacted with him and clarified doubts about GATE exam. The organizers collected feedback from students to enhance the planning execution of the future programs.
Overall Feedback from Students
Mr. Suresh has been an invaluable resource person in GATE preparation, making a profound impact on my understanding of engineering concepts and significantly enhancing chances in both higher education and employment. His deep expertise in the subject matter and more comprehensive understanding. Mr. Suresh apart was not just his knowledge but also his passion for teaching, evident in his engaging and interactive sessions. He consistently went the extra mile to provide additional resources, practice materials, and personalized feedback. His approach was not solely focused on exam preparation but aimed at building a strong foundation for a successful career in engineering. Furthermore, Mr. Suresh played a crucial role in highlighting the practical applications of the GATE syllabus, bridging the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world scenarios. This not only enhanced academic understanding but also prepared me for the challenges that may arise in a professional setting. In terms of employability, Mr. Suresh's insights into industry trends and the specific skills valued by employers were invaluable. His advice on how to leverage a strong GATE score for career advancement provided a strategic perspective that extended beyond the confines of the examination.

Remarks from Resource Person

Mr. Suresh was satisfied with the well-organized event and interaction from the Career Counselling Cell . He was also enthusiastic about the studnet's interest about GATE exam.
