Title of the Workshop/Seminar : A SEMINAR ON " Global Prespective of IPR to stiulate the Techincal Growth "

Resource Persons : Yeleti Surya Chandra Rao
(Advocate)

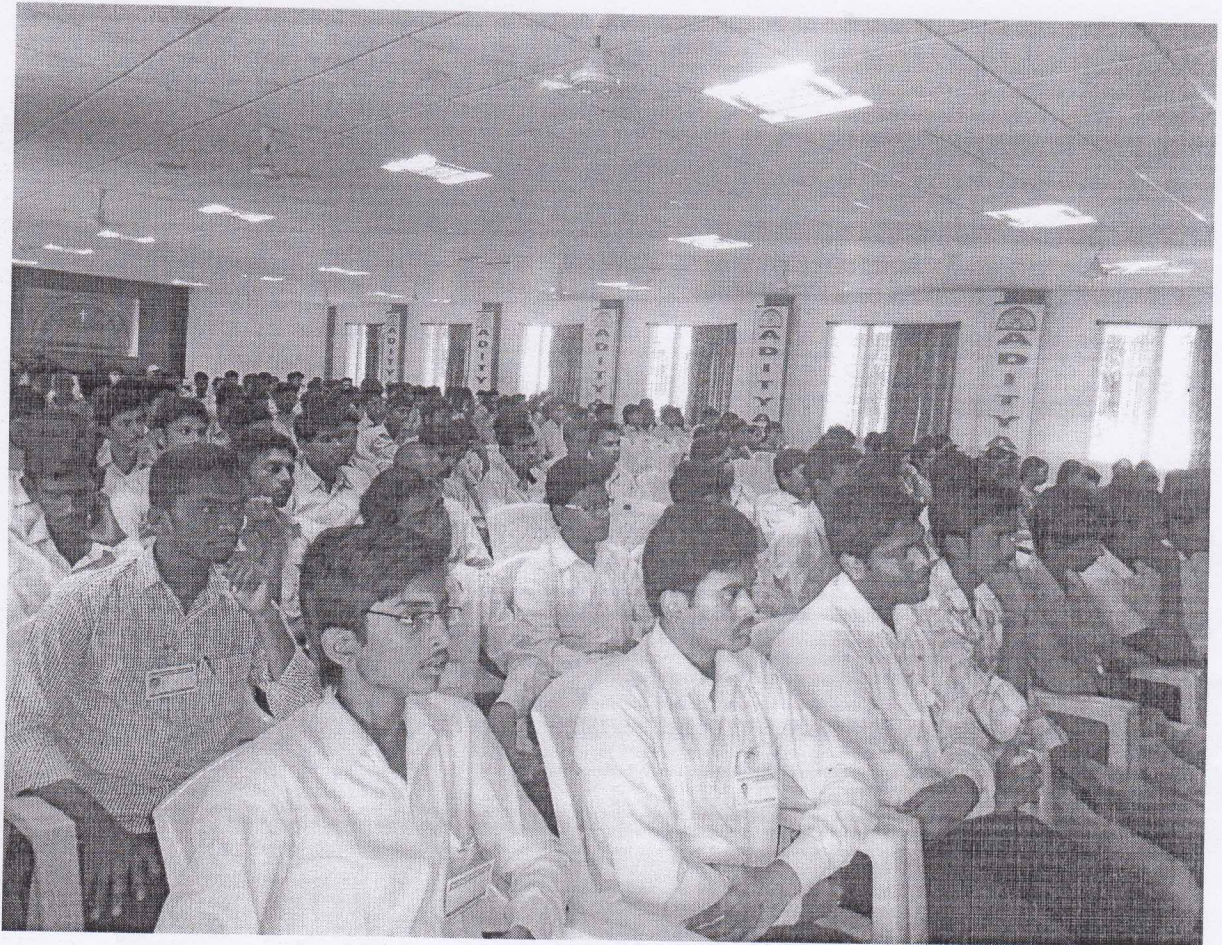

Date(s) of Workshop/Seminar : 12th of Aug, 2014

Aim of Seminar :

We live today in a world in which the economic health of nations and the competitiveness of firms is determined largely by the ability to develop, commercialize, and most importantly, to appropriate (or capture) the economic benefits from scientific and technological (S&T) innovations. Intellectual property rights (IPRs), such as patents and copyrights, are an important means used by firms to help protect their investments in innovation. They are legal instruments that have been used by governments for centuries to encourage industrial development and economic growth.
